The Andrew Young School’s online master’s degree in Criminal Justice Administration provides you with the core knowledge and skills you need to lead and manage in criminal justice professions.

THE PROGRAM

The online master’s degree in Criminal Justice Administration strengthens core leadership abilities and broadens knowledge of the strategies necessary to address rapidly emerging issues in criminal justice systems. The degree combines courses in criminal justice and criminology with managerial principles and practices in public management.

The degree prepares you to:

- Lead and manage in criminal justice systems in democratic societies.
- Understand, analyze and synthesize research on crime and criminal justice policy.
- Think critically to solve problems and make decisions that affect both short- and long-term outcomes for the institutions you lead.
- Articulate and apply a set of ethical principles in the criminal justice system that comports with democratic values and respect for human rights.
- Communicate and interact productively with a diverse and changing workforce and citizenry.

“No peer program in the Southeast—and few programs anywhere in the country—offer a similar interdisciplinary focus on criminal justice administration.”

— Professor John C. Thomas
CAREER OPPORTUNITIES
The program is designed for criminal justice professionals who are seeking advanced degrees and the career advancement associated with them.

Graduates of the Andrew Young School are employed in leadership positions with Homeland Security, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), Secret Service, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives (ATF) and the Georgia Bureau of Investigation (GBI). They also work in other state and local government agencies that include police, fire and rescue, corrections, probation and parole, and juvenile justice and court systems.

COURSE OF STUDY
The online program is 30 credit hours and takes two years to complete. Students enter as a cohort each fall semester and take two courses fall and spring semesters and one course each summer. Part-time study is available and takes three years to complete.
